All Aboard! The Continental Express is scheduled to leave at 8:10 on Track 40. First Stop: Academic Junction. Passengers are to bring pencil, paper, books, and eager minds. Club City is next for those passengers who wish to find activities to fill that time. Care for the fun, excitement, and physical exertion of team sports? Then Sportsville is the place to disembark. Those who continue the journey may depart at Awards Station where scholarships and recognition await. Messages can be picked up at Special Delivery. For those who complete the entire trip on the Continental Express, Senior Depot is the final stop. For those who still have stops to go, departure must be made at Underclass County. They are requested to rejoin the Continental Express next year. All Aboard!

Continental's derail Tigers

50-0 win is #199

Homecoming 1985 was a night of achievement for all Continentals team, coaches, and fans

The 50-0 win over Attucks marked the 199th win for Coach Springer. Anticipation was high throughout the game even though the entire night was Washington's all the way

Both coach and team showed tremendous sportsmanship by kicking three field goals on 1st and ten downs in an effort to hold down the score

Students and staff also came through All week the Student Council had sold spirit links and balloons and had taken donations to raise funds for fireworks. Everything paid off at half-time when the field lights went off, and the night sky flashed with radiant colors and loud booms

The Continental Express was really rolling with a 5-0 season in hand

In celebration of Homecoming

The Washington Continentals jumped to a 28-0 lead over Attucks by the end of the first quarter in the Homecoming contest. One official was heard to remark that it was one of the longest first quarters he had ever experienced for the Attucks Tigers, it was only the beginning of a long, long night

Quarterback John Sluss tossed a 44-yard pass in the first quarter to give the Continental team its first points. Five other touchdowns followed: Mark Brown and Steve Keller returned fumbles, and Marvin King ran for 75-yards on an interception. Placekicker Joe Fox scored three field goals to add to the point total of 50.

The Homecoming win was Coach Springer's 199th. Hopes were high that number 200 would be reached during the season.

Floats from the Art Club, Freedoms Foundation, COE, and Band Boosters circled the field at half-time along with the band and the cars carrying the royalty.

The senior court was led by King Vance Jones and Queen Sheena Fishburn. The remaining senior princes and princesses were Sean Bible, Twana Brinkley, Mark Brown, Carla Davidson, Paula Hill, Marvin King, Isabel Montes, and Keith Timmons. Junior prince and princess were John Sluss and Mary Underwood; sophomore prince and princess were Edward White and Missy Koup; freshman prince and princess were Steve Scott and Kim Shepherd.

Fireworks followed the crowning of the Homecoming royalty to top off a perfect evening of football and fun.

Where to go?

Choices are made in classes

Students at Washington have many important choices to make while travelling on the "Continental Express." They can choose courses that provide an immediate, employable skill such as shop, business, or home economic classes. Or they can choose to concentrate on classes that will lead to college or specialized schools. But only each individual student can decide whether to succeed or fail in those choices

To stay on the right track for four years will call for many hard choices. Will it be "All Aboard!" or "I want to get off!"?

Left: Melissa Spangler pauses for a moment to give the problem some thought. Bottom left: Charlene Highsaw, Kandis Duxon, and Tonya Vanarsdale choose to play some beautiful music. Below: Joey Butrum checks to see that all his bricks are level in his wall.

Right: Mr. Hamit checks on the progress of Faissa Jones's science experiment. The demand for skills in science and math is so great, and students who excel in these areas have a good chance for employment.

Setting sights . . .

As the journey continues

The Continental Express journeys on to its various stops. Some passengers get off before the trip is over. But others set their sights on goals — perhaps a career in business, construction, printing, or the military, or they decide to prepare for college

Four years pass quickly, and at last the Continentals who have persisted arrive at the end of the line — that senior year

End of the line . . .

As seniors share magical moments

End of the line! Senior year!

The traditional ceremonies fill the months of May and June. The selection of the May Queen and her Court, the prom, Awards Day, and then graduation are the familiar signposts of senior year

Last year's prom, held at the Columbia Club, was called the "Beary Best Prom." Very much in evidence was the bear itself. Excitement, food, fancy clothes, corsages, and that special person combined to make a memorable evening. The images may change for the 1986 prom, but the emotions are always the same

Awards Day and graduation follow in quick succession after the prom. Seniors receive the recognition from peers and teachers that they have worked so hard for. Scholarships and diplomas are awarded, and suddenly the realization that the end of high school has arrived sets in

The Continental Express pulls into its final stop, and the passengers disembark — some only temporarily, but some for the last time. They can feel the satisfaction of one who has completed a journey. But there are no doubt also feelings of sadness and loss as the one journey ends, and an uncertain one looms

We must study to increase our knowledge as we prepare year by year for our future. We must continually strive to enrich our minds, and therefore, to enrich our lives — we think we can we think we can Computers. They are the technology of now and the future. But they are also part of the Special Education Department at Washington. Besides using them for reading and math programs, the computers are used as a reward system. When work is completed, students are allowed to work and play on the computers.

Reading is a major concern in the Department. Miss Richardson said that she uses the word attack approach. She finds also that science fiction seems to be of the greatest interest to students in her reading classes.

When asked if there was anything the school could do to improve the Special Education Department, member Miss Borel replied, "Everything — especially the attitudes of the school and faculty towards the department."

Perhaps we all need to think about the hard work it takes to be a Special Education teacher or any other teacher!

CLUB CITY

Continental's strive for excellence

The Wabash Lab, Project Leadership, Boys and Girls State, and the National Honor Society are the organizations here at Washington which recognize students of high achievement.

The Wabash Lab program is held at Wabash College in Wabash, Indiana. Lab stands for Learning About Business. This last year the program started July 7 and lasted for ten days. Student participants were divided into different companies in order to learn how to run a business. Washington's representative was Carla Davidson. Carla was involved in running a telephone company. She was introduced to the stock market, to business forms, to occupations, and to methods of competition. Carla remarked, "What has stayed with me more than anything are the new friendships I encountered. And it's a fun way to learn about business."

The Project Leadership Service (P.L.S.) program started in April, 1985 and ended in April, 1986. Washington's representatives were Keith Timmons and Andy Hunt. The program was located in a summer camp in Michigan that the participants attended for ten days. P.L.S. is intended to promote leadership among seniors and sixth graders and to teach the students to recognize negative attitudes. After the camp program, the I.P.S. students met once a month, and they planned a local hunger campaign. Reflected Keith Timmons, "Something I think is really great about P.L.S. is that I know people from about every school in Marion County, 52 of the greatest people you would ever meet." Andy Hunt added, "I am proud to be in it, and I think I've learned a lot from it."

The Boys and Girls State programs take place every year during June on the Indiana State campus at Terre Haute. Washington's 1985 representatives were Mike Kelley, Isabel Montes, and Twana Brinkley. The purpose of the programs is to teach students from all over the state about the election process. Mock elections for all the elected posts in Indiana are held. The students nominate candidates, plan, and run the campaigns. Mike participated in the band and sports events. Isabel and Twana attended a talent show put on by the students. As Mike said, "I had a great time, met some new people, and found out why our government works the way it does." Added Isabel, "Girls State is a lot of fun. I think any girl who has the chance to go should take advantage of the opportunity. Because you gain and learn so much from it, and it's something you'll never forget."

The National Honor Society is a national organization which recognizes academic and school leadership. Students with a 6.0 grade point average are voted by the faculty on the basis of scholarship, service, leadership, and integrity. The initiation of each year's members takes place in the spring in a ceremony in the auditorium.

We've got something for everyone!

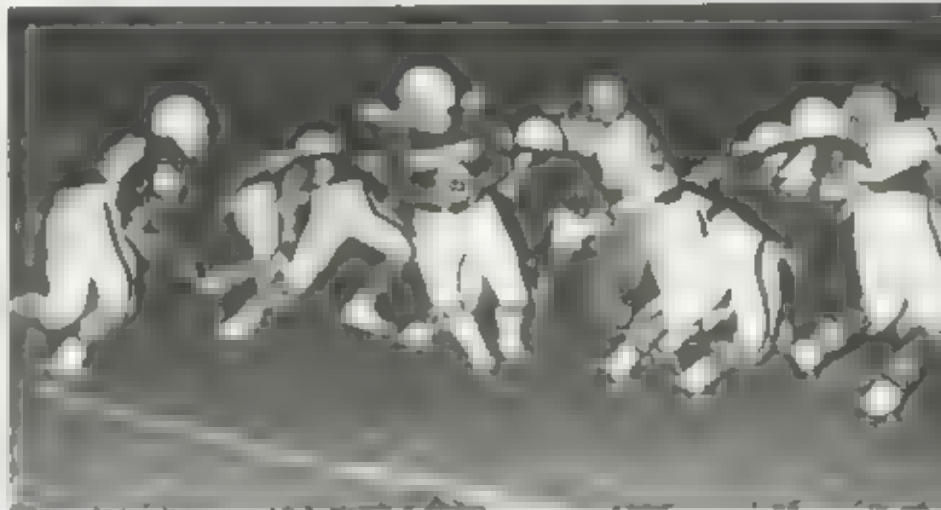

To become a member of the Letterpersons' Club, a student must first win a letter sweater for participating on an athletic team. Last year the club's purpose was basically just to have fun. In the past the club has sponsored a school clean-up project. The Letterpersons' Club also has an annual club/faculty swim, so that the students can show their appreciation for the efforts of the faculty. Mr. Newland is the group's sponsor.

The Student Council meets every Wednesday morning at 7:30 a.m. The students also meet at other times to discuss and plan different social and service projects. Homecoming is the Student Council's main social event. For the last two years, the council has earned money by selling spirit chain links and by collecting donations for the half-time show and fireworks. The Student Council also sponsors an annual canned food dance along with the Freedoms Foundation. The second annual "Putting on the Hits" show was organized and presented by the council in January.

The Student Council has also sponsored several service projects. They participated in the MADD march, and they also sponsored a mini-convocation every three weeks concerning the important issue of drunk driving. The Student Council also worked on a plan to get academic letter sweaters for those students who would qualify. Without the Student Council, sponsored by Miss Borel, G.W.H.S. would be a very boring school.

dation, a service organization, completed many projects. The members entered a float in the Homecoming parade. They sponsored the annual canned food dance in conjunction with the Student Council. The Freedoms Foundation also helped with and contributed to the Toys for Tots drive. The group also worked to set up an Adopt a Grandparent program at Washington. Mr. Gaynor sponsors the Freedoms Foundation.

Groups enrich G.W.H.S.

The Art Club, the only surviving academic club at Washington High School, meets regularly every Tuesday in the scene shop. The main purpose of the Art Club is to inform students about the various styles of art and to help them develop a more stable conception of what art is. The club set two goals for itself this year. The first, and the one that affected the students this year, was the decoration of the east gym for the Valentine's Day dance. A second long range goal is the creation of a mural along one of the cafeteria walls to be hopefully completed in the latter half of next year. The Art Club also sponsored a float in the Homecoming parade. To raise funds the Art Club sells picture buttons to order. The Art Club is to be commended for its success

as the only academic club to survive

The Library Assistants, under the supervision of Media Center Director Mr. Steinberg and Media Center Clerk Mrs. Newland, are students who work in the Media Center instead of being assigned a study hall. The students deliver and pick up audio-visual materials, check books in and out, and help to keep the books in order on the shelves

The newspaper staff here at Washington works very hard each year to meet their prime goal which is to publish six issues of The Surveyor. The school paper informs both students and teachers alike on various human interest issues as well as on athletic events and special events. Mrs. Hall, The Surveyor adviser, feels that although she and her

staff receive quite a bit of support from the school in general, they could use a lot more

The Post staff and their adviser face many trying times each year in order to meet all the deadlines so the yearbook can be ready for the student body at the end of the school year. There are a total of six deadlines to meet beginning in November and ending in April before the 144-page book can be called complete. Besides producing the school's annual, the yearbook staff also supervises the senior pictures, the underclass pictures, and all the other photos that appear in the book. The staff sells yearbooks and extra candid shots of the student body to help pay for the costly production of the yearbook. The yearbook is a very complicated project, and it requires a dedicated adviser and staff to make sure everything runs smoothly. Miss Davis is in her fourth year as the Post adviser. Senior Steve Ligon is the editor of the 1986 Post.

Activities improve attitudes

Campus Life is a Youth for Christ organization with chapters across the city. Washington's affiliated club met on Monday nights at the West Morris Street Free Methodist Church. When asked what kinds of activities occurred at the meetings, member Sean Copeland said, "We get together and play a lot of games that everyone has fun playing. After that we have a 15 to 20 minute discussion time. Many relevant topics are discussed." Campus Life sponsors a variety of events. The annual "Scream in the Dark" Haunted House at Halloween is sponsored by all Campus Life organizations in the city. The club also sponsors many trips throughout the year. Snow skiing, white water rafting, and an annual spring break trip to Florida are just some of the Campus Life trips. As Sean Copeland said, "The Campus Life experience is totally beyond description."

Any student who has the ability in speaking events such as dramatic interpretation, poetry reading, delivery of memorized speeches, or writing and delivering one's own speech can become a member of the speech team. Washington's speech team travelled to other high schools approximately once or twice a month from September through March. The speech team competes in sectional, regional, and national competition. Mr. Yerich is the adviser of the speech team; he is assisted by Mr. Sharp.

COE stands for Cooperative Office Education; it is a cooperative vocational program between the Indianapolis Public Schools and the local business community providing on-the-job training for office occupation students. Miss Burroughs is in her third year as coordinator of the COE program here at Washington. The program has been very successful with some students being hired full time after graduation and others being hired part-time as they continue their education at I.U.P.U.I. or other local schools.

Groups sing out

The singing groups of Washington High School are organized in groups from beginner to advanced. The first group on the ladder is the Glee Club. Anyone is welcome in the Glee Club whether they can sing or not. The Colonial Chorus is next in line. The Colonial Chorus is a concert choir made up of selections of students from the Glee Club and the Swing Choirs. The Colonial Chorus is thus made up of only experienced voices. After Colonial Chorus comes the Girls Ensemble. The Girls Ensemble is made up of all girls who are at least sophomores. The girls are chosen on their ability to both sing and dance. When you reach the Continentales, you've made it to the top. The girls are selected from the Girls Ensemble and the guys from several groups, but all have to try out. All the singing groups participate in the annual Christmas and spring concerts held here at Washington. Christmas is the busiest time

They play with spirit

The George Washington High School band, under the direction of Mr. Hollandbeck, performed at various community and school events. During May, 1985, the band marched in the Indianapolis "500" parade while wearing its brand new uniforms for the first time. The band also was able to purchase new flags and flag corps uniforms with the help of the Band Boosters — a group of band parents and supporters. The Band Boosters and the members of the band worked very hard to earn money by selling pizzas, candy, doughnuts.

The band also played at all home football and basketball games and at any pep sessions. Last fall the band performed at the Indianapolis Zoo groundbreaking ceremonies at White River State Park. On Veterans also events in which the band performs. As the school year ends, the band is there to provide music at Awards Day and Graduation ceremonies.

ROTC units march the line

The purpose of ROTC is to teach good citizenship, patriotism, self-reliance, leadership, responsiveness to a constituted authority, knowledge of basic military skills, and appreciation of the role of the U.S. Army in support of national objectives.

A good JROTC student must first demonstrate responsibility by having good attendance and showing academic achievement in all subjects. The student must improve steadily in leadership by showing sound judgement and reasoning in daily activities. Cadets must be able to apply the knowledge learned in JROTC.

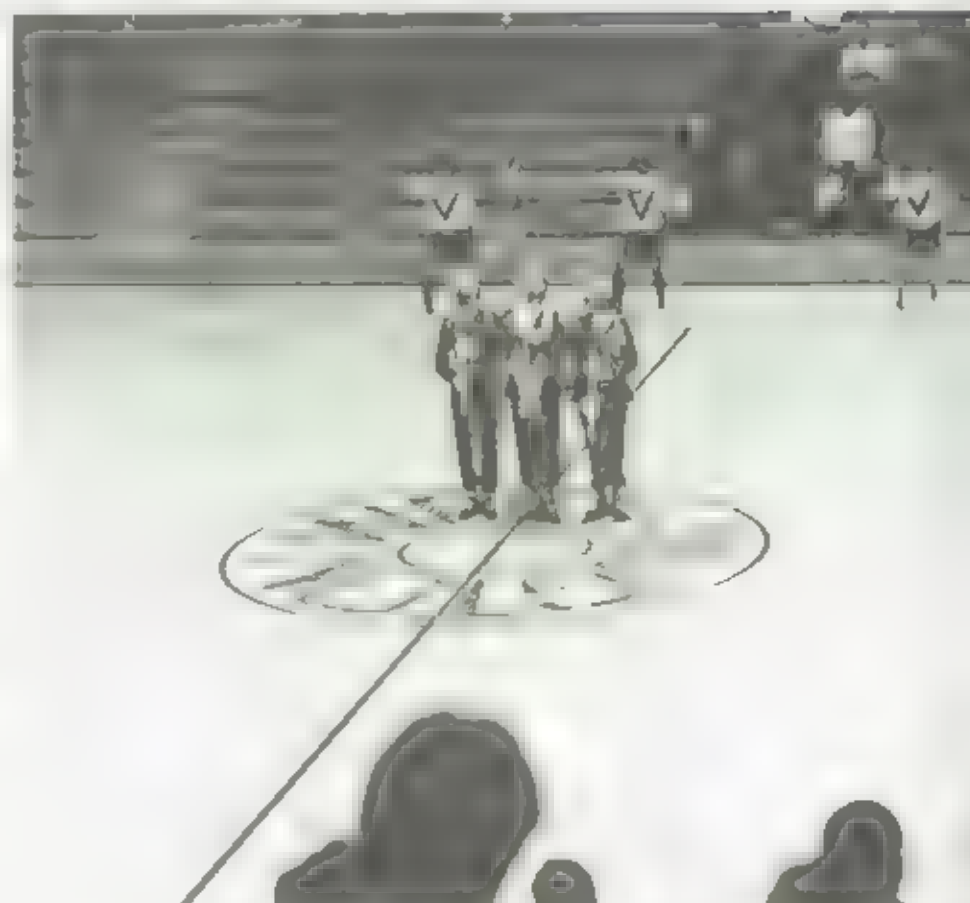

The JROTC unit at Washington is very busy; it colors at all home sporting events as requested by the community, and it also runs the school concession stand.

The Drill Team and the Rifle Team compete in state-wide competition. The Rifle Team was Indiana State Champion in the JROTC Division for the school year 1984-1985.

The JROTC Unit also marches annually in the Veteran's Day Parade in November. The unit received first place award in 1983 and 1984 and second in 1985 as best marching unit in the Veteran's Day Parade. The JROTC Unit also participates in Memorial Day activities.

The GWHS JROTC Unit has received the highest ranking possible: "honor unit with distinction," for the last eight years from the Department of the Army.

We are very proud of you JROTC!

Cheerleaders are on the move

To promote spirit and support for the school's athletic teams are the goals of the varsity and freshmen cheerleaders. The cheer squads started preparing for the upcoming football and basketball seasons at the end of the 1984-85 school year. When asked what makes being a cheerleader special, Emma Bethea said, "Being recognized by everyone as a cheerleader makes me feel most special."

To become a cheerleader you must first fill out an application. After you fill out an application, the sponsor, Ms. Borel, plans practices. You must attend all practices and go through a series of tryouts and cuts. Finally the cheerleaders are chosen.

The G.W.H.S. Wrestlerettes, also sponsored by Ms. Borel, are cheerleaders for the wrestling team. The squad meets two evenings a week to practice. All the girls agreed that being a Wrestlerette was a lot of fun especially because of all the travel to different schools.

The Pom Pon squad's purpose is to entertain the fans during halftime at football and basketball games. Certain qualities are expected from a Pom Pon girl. The girls have to have dance ability, enthusiasm, and showmanship. The squad practices three days a week after school. Ms. Richardson is the group's sponsor.

Cross Country

Tests the mind and the body

The 1985 Continental boys' cross country team had an excellent season. They not only earned a fine dual meet record of 7-1, but they were also very impressive in invitational competition. The lady Continentals, however, had a disappointing season as they never had a complete team. The minimum number of runners required is five, but only four girls came out for this year's team.

The most valuable runner was Craig Campbell. Overtaking his twin brother, Chris, who led the team during the '84 season, he tied the school record of 16:29 at the Ben Davis course during the sectionals. The following weekend, on that same course, Craig set a new school record of 16:25.

Leading the team at the beginning of the season was junior Craig Maxey. It was Craig's first year for cross country, and Coach Stahlhut was very impressed by his ability.

Other runners who received varsity awards were senior Chris

The 1985 boys' cross country team takes off to begin the circuit around Riverside Park

Campbell and junior Danny Harris

The boys' cross country was also aided by freshmen runners. Like the girls, the guys lacked a number five varsity runner, so that position was often filled by freshmen. Tom Lightfoot and Alonzo Cushingberry were among the outstanding runners who competed in varsity races.

Although the girls didn't have a complete team, the four girls on the team still competed in all meets. But since they were one runner short, they always recorded incomplete scores. This led to an unhappy season for Coach Sirmin and his team. Sherri Taylor was the top lady Continental. Other varsity winners were Sara Freije, Jennifer Heath, and Lynnette Johnson.

T eams record losses

Youth, inexperience blamed

Both the varsity and junior varsity volleyball teams suffered losing seasons. The varsity team played to a winless record of 0-14 while the reserve squad earned a record of 2-11. And though both teams and coaches were disappointed with the results, Coach Lanane stated, "The 1985 volleyball teams had the best mental attitude and spirit since the 1981 team."

Hopes are high for next year with a more experienced team expected. Returning seniors will be Linda Stephey, Roxann Boyd, Dawn Adams, Chrissy Smith, Mary Underwood, Cheryl Royston, Karen Hughett, Pam Compton, and Jamie Eckel. Such returning strength and experience teams have uneven season

Girls win 3rd in city!

Inexperience and loss of varsity team members led to an uneven season for both the girls swim team and the boys tennis team. The varsity tennis team had only freshmen and sophomores on the team. The girls swim team faced many of the same problems as they had mainly underclassmen — only two seniors swam this year. Both Coach Tolin and Coach Shaw expect a better season next year.

The girls swim team had the better season. Finishing third in the city, the swim team went on to end the season with a 5-5 record. Even though there weren't any records set this year, the girls still put forth their best effort. Swimmers who performed well in the city meet were Kim Shepherd, Carol Combs, Geneva

Lori Smith practices her backstroke before the meet

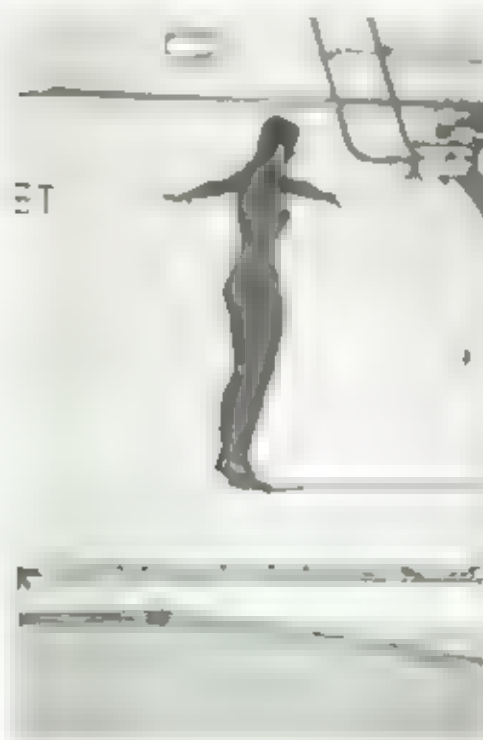

Burke, Kelly DeVore, Eliana Zuluaga, Glendora Burke, and Angie McCarthy. Nine girls competed in the Sectionals; Kim Shepherd turned in the best finish in the Sectionals in the 50 freestyle. Geneva Burke was named most valuable swimmer having earned 17 first place finishes this season.

The boys tennis team ended the year with a 1-13 record. As the season progressed, the team made great gains. Coach Tolin feels next year's team should be much improved. At the fall sports banquet, Coach Tolin remarked that this was a very young and hard-working team. Sophomore Stacey Stephens was named most valuable player.

The Facts . . .

- MVP is awarded to Stacy Stephens
- MVP is awarded to Geneva Burke
- Girls swim team win 3rd in City meet; only two points away from 2nd place.

Sectional ends season

The 1985 Continental varsity football team rolled to its third consecutive city title with a 7-2 record. The squad also earned Coach Bob Springer his 200th victory. Springer thus became only the sixth coach in Indiana high school football history to achieve this record.

Unfortunately, the sectional defeat at the hands of eventual 4A champs Brownsburg ended hopes of a state title. But the 1985 season brought much satisfaction: Washington became the first I.P.S. school to play in the Hoosier Dome; Washington and Bob Springer earned their 24th consecutive winning season; placekicker Joe Fox was named all-state and all-city; guard James Miller and linebacker David Morris were named all-city. Morris and Miller also won the team's Tackling Trophy and Blue Star Trophy respectively.

The defensive squad continued to earn the team's victories, five of the season's wins were shut-outs. The offense, led by first-year quarterback John Sluss, proved to be the weakest facet of the Continental game as it was last year when the team had no viable quarterback. Washington's scoring came as the result of rushing, interceptions, and field goals.

Coach Cannon's junior varsity squad ended their season with a 5-3 record despite the fact the team was composed mostly of sophomores. The team kept two opponents scoreless, and it outlasted Arlington in a double overtime thriller 26-24.

The freshmen lost their season 3-5, but it was a team that improved consistently as shown by its 18-0 victory over Tech after two straight losses to Northwest and Arlington. 32 players finished the season—the most in several years, and even though there were no outstanding players, with so many finishing the season, the coaches felt the freshman team accomplished many goals. Former Attucks coach Richard Ricker directed the freshmen assisted by Coach Short and Athletic Director Robertson.

The Facts

- Coach Bob Springer racks up 201 victories in 28-year coaching career
- Springer is 6th coach in Indiana to achieve 200 career record.
- Placekicker Joe Fox named all state and all-city
- Guard James Miller and linebacker David Morris named all city
- David Morris earns Tackling Trophy.
- James Miller earns Blue Star Trophy.

An interview with Coach Springer

- Q: How did your 200th victory feel?
- A: It was a great feeling after 28 years of coaching . . . you go back and realize how many great people and assistant coaches contributed—not only coaches and players—but the community and student body and faculty
- Q: After you won your 200th victory, did you see coaching in a different view?
- A: No, it gets a little bit harder as you get older because it takes a lot more effort
- Q: Which one felt better, winning your first victory or your 200th victory?
- A: (Jokingly) Well, I don't remember the first one, so it'd better be the 200th!
- Q: When did you decide you'd win 200, or was it something that just happened?
- A: It just happened to come along . . . because I had no idea where the stopping point would be—whether it would be 150 or 175 or what the case might be. 200 was not any magic number by any means of the imagination, but . . . as long as you're healthy and you like what you're doing and you can still do it well . . . you just keep going
- Q: When did you decide you wanted to be a coach?
- A: Oh, probably about the 4th grade. I felt then I was going to be in athletics all my life because I started playing football in the 3rd grade, and I played football and basketball at Cathedral and . . . at Purdue. It's the one thing I've always been motivated to do because I like to compete to be a good coach and a good athlete
- I like daily competition, and I like the thrill of competing and either being a winner or a loser
- Q: Would it have been better (for the 200th win) to have beaten Roncalli in the Dome, or did it feel just the same to beat a rival team like Ben Davis?
- A: Well . . . where I started coaching and Roncalli are one and the same . . . and to go back and win your 200th against the school that gave you the opportunity to be a head coach—I was 21 years old, and they had enough confidence in me at that age—it would have meant a lot, but after being at Washington for 24 years, I think it was a little bit more gratifying to win it here on our own field
- Q: Do you have any plans to retire in the future?
- A: Well, when you're playing . . . (it's) day by day, but I have no plans of doing anything other than working and my family, and whatever it takes to live a wholesome life

—by Jeff Pearson

Frustrations abound

Size, errors to blame

The GWHS basketball teams struggled through a season of stinging disappointments and surprises. Finishing the season with a record of 7-15, the varsity could have had a better record as they lost six games by only one or two points. Poor free-throw shooting, poor rebounding, and player injuries kept the team from winning those close ones.

Coach Sfreddo's varsity season was particularly frustrating as the team was plagued with constant problems. Senior guard John Robinson (also team captain and one of the leading scorers in the city for most of the season) was unable to play in several games because of a hand injury. In addition, the departure of several tall players from the '84-'85 team left the squad without effective rebounding. "We were only one player away from a good season," said Coach Sfreddo. "We needed a big man under the boards."

Senior forward Mark Brown led the team in blocked shots with 24 and was the leading rebouncer averaging 7.7 per game. Senior guard John Robinson was the team's leading scorer, averaging 16.6 points per game and leading the team in assists with 4.5 per game. Junior Steve Rutherford led the Continentals with 60 steals.

The city tourney provided the season's best play as the varsity won its first two games convincingly against Ritter and Northwest. The Continentals fell to No. 1 Broad Ripple in the third match-up 63-77. Overall, Coach Sfreddo felt the team played to its capabilities except for free throw shooting. But the numerous near-misses of victory made the season a particularly disappointing and less than successful one.

Coach Pearson's J V team finished its season with a 10-10 record. Again free-throw shooting and errors affected the win-loss record. Top scorer was forward John Simmons, who was also named most valuable player. Next year's plans are to improve and develop more of the basic skills.

—Danny Harris

The Facts

- John Robinson is varsity's top scorer with 16.6 point average
- Varsity shoots 57% from free-throw stripe and 47% from the floor
- Varsity loses six games by one or two points.
- John Simmons is J V's top scorer and MVP
- Top free throw shooter is Bruce Ford with 77%

rosh gain steadily

J.V. fights losses

Washington's freshman squad improved consistently throughout its 8-9 season especially in defensive play. Part of this improvement came about because of the good practice sessions held each morning. Though it was difficult at first to be ready at 6:30 a.m., Coach Short said that it soon became a habit, and with everyone arriving on time, a good atmosphere for play was created.

For Coach Short, the 49-45 victory over Arlington was the most satisfying as that game was the most consistently played. The 37-44 Northwest game proved to be the season's worst because it lacked that consistency and good defensive play.

The team's 8-9 record was also a result of its smaller size and inconsistent shooting. However, because of its steady gains culminating in the Arlington contest, both team and coach felt pleased with the year.

M.V.P. Damon Simpson led the freshmen with a 13.7 point average and with 67% free throw shooting. He also led the team in assists and steals. Avery Clark was the top rebounder with a 12.3 average. Coach Short named Damarrow Bledsoe the most improved player.

Led by first year coach, Jane Daughtery, the girls junior varsity team ended with a 2-10 record. Nevertheless, the team maintained a good mental attitude throughout the season. Inexperience and the lack of understanding of the basic defensive and offensive skills were the team's weaknesses. The team's determination was its greatest strength. Even though the season was disappointing, both coach and team considered it a great learning experience. But Coach Daughtery felt there was potential for a better performance if the players had pushed themselves harder and had mastered the basic basketball skills.

Carla Copeland and Andrea Meredith were cited as players who had improved during the season, and the coach sees these two players improving more as well as Deana Hillman and Lori Jones.

The Facts

- * Freshman Damon Simpson is M.V.P. leading the team in points scored, free throw shooting, steals, and assists
- * Avery Clark leads freshmen with 12.3 rebounds
- * J.V. players Carla Copeland, Andrea Meredith, Deana Hillman, and Lori Jones show improvement over season
- * Jane Daughtery assumes J.V. coaching spot.

S eason ends 5-12

Team is hopeful for next year

The girls varsity basketball team had a disappointing season ending with a 5-12 mark. With several sophomores and only one senior, Monica Cody, on the team, inexperience proved to be a major problem on the floor.

Free throw shooting was the team's greatest strength. In fact, junior Dawn Adams led all I.P.S. players in free throws with 71% accuracy. Coach Sirmin cited ball handling and lack of speed on the floor as team weaknesses.

The Park Tudor contest won by six points 45-39 in overtime and the Northwest match-up won by only two points with 24 points earned by free throws were the season's most exciting games. A disappointing loss was to Arlington by a score of 42-45—a game the Continentals should have won but lost because of the lack of speed and poor ball handling. The Attucks game won 37-32 was one of the best played games of the year.

Coach Sirmin noted that thinking and thinking quickly on the floor is the game's first priority, and that with work on execution, speed, and ball handling, next year's team should earn a better record. With the experience gained from this year, the returning sophomores and juniors look forward to the 1986-87 season.

Junior Dawn Adams was awarded the Mental Attitude Award. Adams led the team in scoring with a 13.9 point average and in free throws with a 71% average. These averages also earned her a second place ranking among all scorers in I.P.S. and the first place spot in free throw accuracy. Coach Sirmin mentioned sophomore Terri Hardy as one player who had shown improvement in defense over the season.

One rule the high school coaches and teams have had to deal with this year was the controversial "bench rule" which kept coaches on the bench. Coach Sirmin said, "It makes coaching hard—it's hard to communicate . . . It should be changed slightly." His J.V. counterpart, Coach Daughtery, commented that she had no problem with it, and that "It was beneficial for some coaches to be benched." But that the rule "may hurt . . . in the teaching way." Even though most coaches dislike the rule as now in effect, no action to change it has yet occurred.

The Facts

- * Dawn Adams wins Mental Attitude Award.
- * Adams is second highest scorer in I.P.S. with 13.9 point average.
- * Adams is best I.P.S. free throw shooter with 71% accuracy.
- * Varsity record is 5-12.

arsity improves

J.V. learns on mat

GWHS wrestling teams had a productive season. The varsity, with a team record of 7-7, was led by seniors Steve Rhim with 17 pins and Billy Hurin with 16 pins. The junior varsity/freshman wrestlers achieved a record of 6-4. The freshmen earned a 3rd place showing in the city meet while the J.V. grapplers came in 8th, and the varsity placed 10th.

The varsity consisted of two seniors, two sophomores, and four freshmen. Seniors Billy Hurin with a record of 19-5-1 and Steve Rhim with a record of 19-8 led all wrestlers. Hurin also came in 2nd in the city meet at 132 lbs. Also outstanding were freshmen Clifford Cooper with a varsity record of 11-7 and Chet Vanover with a 9-8-1 record. Cooper and Vanover were also freshman city champs in their weight classes.

The varsity team sometimes had eight freshmen on the roster. Coach Phillips commented that his freshmen "were hard-working and (we) can look to the future."

Freshman Clifford Cooper holds his opponent down with a half Nelson into a pinning combination.

The coach plans to build up his wrestlers' confidence through weight-lifting and freestyle wrestling in the summer. He notes that it will be hard, but that "a little hard work never hurt anyone." Phillips believes that the summer program will help the Washington wrestlers keep the title of "Home of the Champions."

The junior varsity team ended their year with a 6-4 record. Outstanding wrestler was Chris McGee at 126 lbs. Coach Phillips was assisted by Curtis Rhim, cousin of senior wrestler Steve Rhim. With most of the freshmen and J.V. wrestlers returning next year, the wrestling program looks strong.

The only disappointment for Coach Phillips was the fact that only 22 wrestlers finished the season out of the 55 that started. Steve Rhim and Billy Hurin were the only seniors to finish the year. This drop-out rate hurt at first, but then a build-up took place mainly through the efforts of the freshmen. The season thus ended on an upbeat note with plans being made for next year.

Girls fight inexperience

The Continental boys swim team finished their season with the title of "City Champs" and an 83 record. Seniors Mike Kelley and Mike Young led the swim team to the city title by winning 1st place ribbons. Mike Young swam to 1st place in the 50-free-style and the 500-free-style. Mike Kelley won the 100 backstroke. Coach Shaw said it helped the team a lot to have competed against all the city teams in meets before the city contest. "Everybody did their best to be number one that night. Everybody was fired up," said Coach Shaw.

The return of 12 swimmers was one of the team's strengths along with intra-squad competition. A weakness of the team was its lack of freshmen.

Daily practice began at 3.30. Coach Shaw had the team swim every event in practice, and she increased yardage and conducted sprints to improve times. Then each swimmer did his individual workout. The team also practiced before each meet—something not every team does.

New school records were set in the 100 breaststroke and in the 100 freestyle. In the first round of the sectionals, Mike Young qualified in the 500 freestyle along with the medley relay team and the 400-free-style team. However, in the final round, the team placed 10th. The medley relay team did set a new school record at the sectionals.

Mike Young was named most valuable swimmer while Keith Tretter was named most improved.

The 1985-86 girls tennis team consisted mainly of young, inexperienced players. There were three returning members: Pam Compton, Melissa Baublitt, and Michelle Eggert.

Coach Tolin concentrated on teaching the fundamentals of serving, strokes, and scoring to the newcomers. He hopes these first-year players will form the basis of a more experienced team along with the returning players for next year. He was encouraged with the turnout of new players. For Coach Tolin and the team, it was a year of re-building and learning.

Softball makes debut

The guys on the baseball diamond were joined by the girls from the first Continental softball team this year.

Baseball coaches Pearson and Sfreddo anticipated improvement with many seniors returning to spots on the varsity team. The J. V. team, composed mostly of freshmen and sophomores, hoped to gain experience. As both teams earned losing records last year, the goal is to reverse these records.

What are the fundamentals needed to play baseball? Most importantly said Coach Sfreddo is, "To be able to think ahead to the next play—what you will do if the ball is hit to you." Of course, in batting, the main goal is to make contact. In fielding, the players must learn to get in front of the ball and make a good throw. In pitching, the pitcher must throw over the plate in the strike zone.

But how to get the players conditioned? Coach Sfreddo listed

Senior Jesse Collins is on deck as the other varsity baseball members watch from the bench these training methods: (1) running, (2) getting the body low and in front of the ball when fielding, (3) catching fly balls at shoulder height in the throwing position, (4) not overstriding the pitch and developing a short, compact swing.

The most difficult thing to teach is to not try and hit a home run every time at bat, but to remember the game's fundamentals.

Last year's softball was played only on an intramural level with the girls divided into two teams and competing against each other.

This year marked the debut of the team on the competitive level. Coach Gaynor was assisted by Mr. Fox and Mr. Adams, father of student Dawn Adams.

As with the baseball team, the softball team also needed to get into condition and to learn the basics. Running, sliding into base, changing directions quickly were all conditioning exercises practiced. Fielding the ball and quickly releasing it, placing the ball, base running, and thinking about what is necessary to win were the team's goals.

- First-ever softball team takes the field at Washington
- Seniors on varsity baseball team vow to record winning season
- 1985 varsity and junior varsity baseball teams record losing seasons.

986 goal: to improve

1985 record 12-6

Coach Stahlhut hopes his 1986 boys track team will improve over the 1985 record of 12-6. But last year's team and individual members achieved several high marks.

The team placed first at the Pike Invitational, second at the City meet, and third at the Sectionals. At the Tech Invitational, though the team came in fourth, two 1985 graduates Darrow Ramsey and Billy Bertram brought home firsts in the 400 and the pole vault respectively.

A week later at the City meet, Washington Continentals won first place ribbons: Billy Bertram in the pole vault, Lawrence Turner in the shot put, and the members of the 1600 relay team.

Several 1985 track members placed third or better at the Sectionals thus qualifying them for the Regionals a week later. Lawrence Turner placed first in the shot put; Alvin Bailey came in at second in the long jump; Randy Lane placed second in the 110 high hurdles; Brian Bland won second in the 400; Andy Lane won third in the 300 low hurdles, and the members of the 1600 relay team came in third.

No team members qualified at the Regionals as only first and second place winners go on. At the Regionals, Brian Bland came in third in the 400 while Lawrence Turner brought home sixth place in the shot put.

Hopes are high this year for returning letterman Lawrence Turner in the shot put event. With his experience at the Sectional and Regional levels, Turner is a good prospect for State.

Coach Stahlhut was assisted in his coaching this year by Coach Cannon and paraprofessional Bernie Miller.

Hope to better 1985 record

Sharon Williams and Toni Sims sprint down the Northwest track on their way to a meet win last spring against the Pioneers

Coach Lanane and first year Coach Daughtery worked with one goal in mind—to do better than the 1985 record of 1-13. With the loss of graduate Stacy Brown, 1985 top girls trackster, the 1986 team may have a difficult year. Also the addition of a girls softball team to the roster of spring sports caused fewer girls to come out for the track team.

The 1985 team had its best showing at the City Meet when it came in third. Stacy Brown brought home second place ribbons in these events: the 100 and 300 hurdles and high jump. At the Sectionals, Stacy Brown again led all Continentals with two second place finishes in the 100 and 300 hurdles and a third place finish in the high jump. Overall the team placed seventh at the Sectionals.

The team did not fare any better at last year's Invitational meets at Tech and Pike placing fifth and fourth respectively. However, Stacy Brown again did well—bringing home first place ribbons in the low hurdles and the high jump at the Tech meet.

The hopes for the 1986 team were with the returning juniors and seniors who had the experience of last year's track meets

Isabel Montes, the 1986 May Queen, and her court consisting of Twana Brinkley, Cindy Brown, Carla Davidson, Sheena Fishburn, Michelle Lee, and Carla Pitcock presided over Awards Day 1986 on Wednesday, May 28.

The Queen and her court were chosen by members of the Senior Class. In order to be nominated, the senior girls had to have a 6.0 grade point average or better.

Awards Day consists of two sessions—one in the morning for underclassmen and one in the afternoon where parents and faculty join seniors for the presentation of awards and scholarships. Academic, athletic, and attendance awards are among those presented.

Awards Day continues to be a tradition at Washington High School for today's students and those students of the future.

Last Stop!

1985-1986 has been a year of memories — some will be forgotten soon — some will be a part of our lives forever. For the members of the class of 1986, this is the last time to journey on the Continental Express — the last time to be a part of the daily and yearly happenings of a school — the last time to be a George Washington High School student. The last time . . .

Top ten

Academic achievement is very important in high school. Achieving academically will not only establish a young person in his school, it will also help in establishing success in early adulthood. The only way to prepare for the journey through life is to do the best in school that you can do.

A key step to excelling in school is to learn to balance one's time between school work and social activities without neglecting school work. The results could be what these top ten seniors have achieved — a spot on the "Academic Top Ten."

1986 Leaders

This year, as in years past, the ritual of electing Senior Class officers was once again performed.

The Results?

President: Isabel Montes
Vice-president: Twana Brinkley
Secretary: Cindy Brown
Treasurer: Monica Cody
Sergeant-at-arms: Donna Rose
Sergeant-at-arms: Keith Timmons

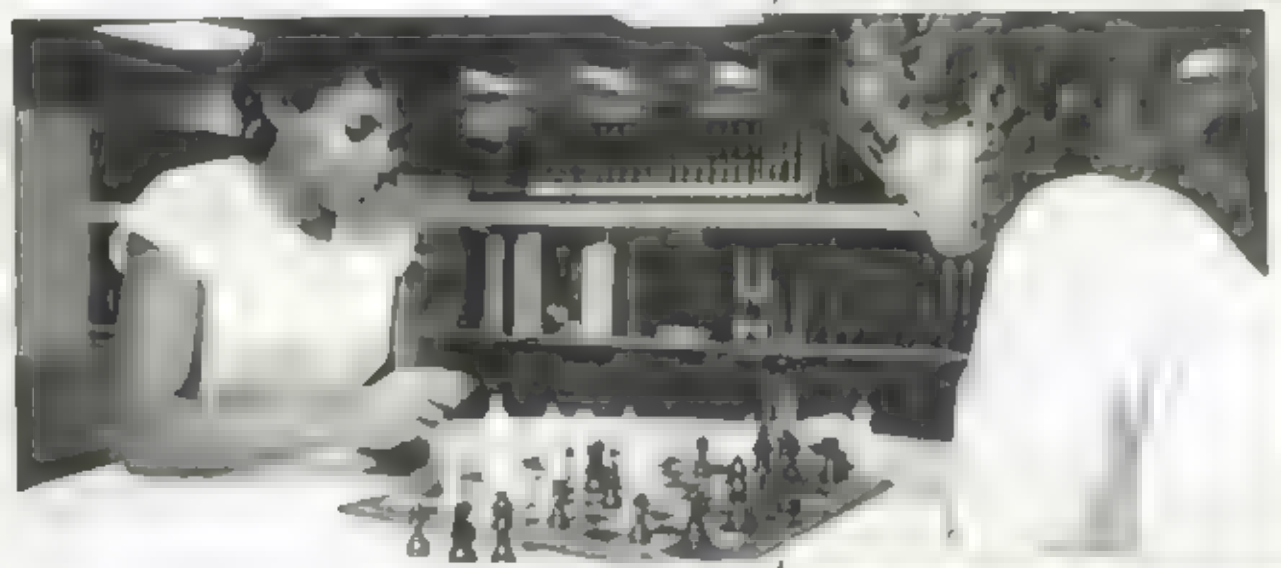

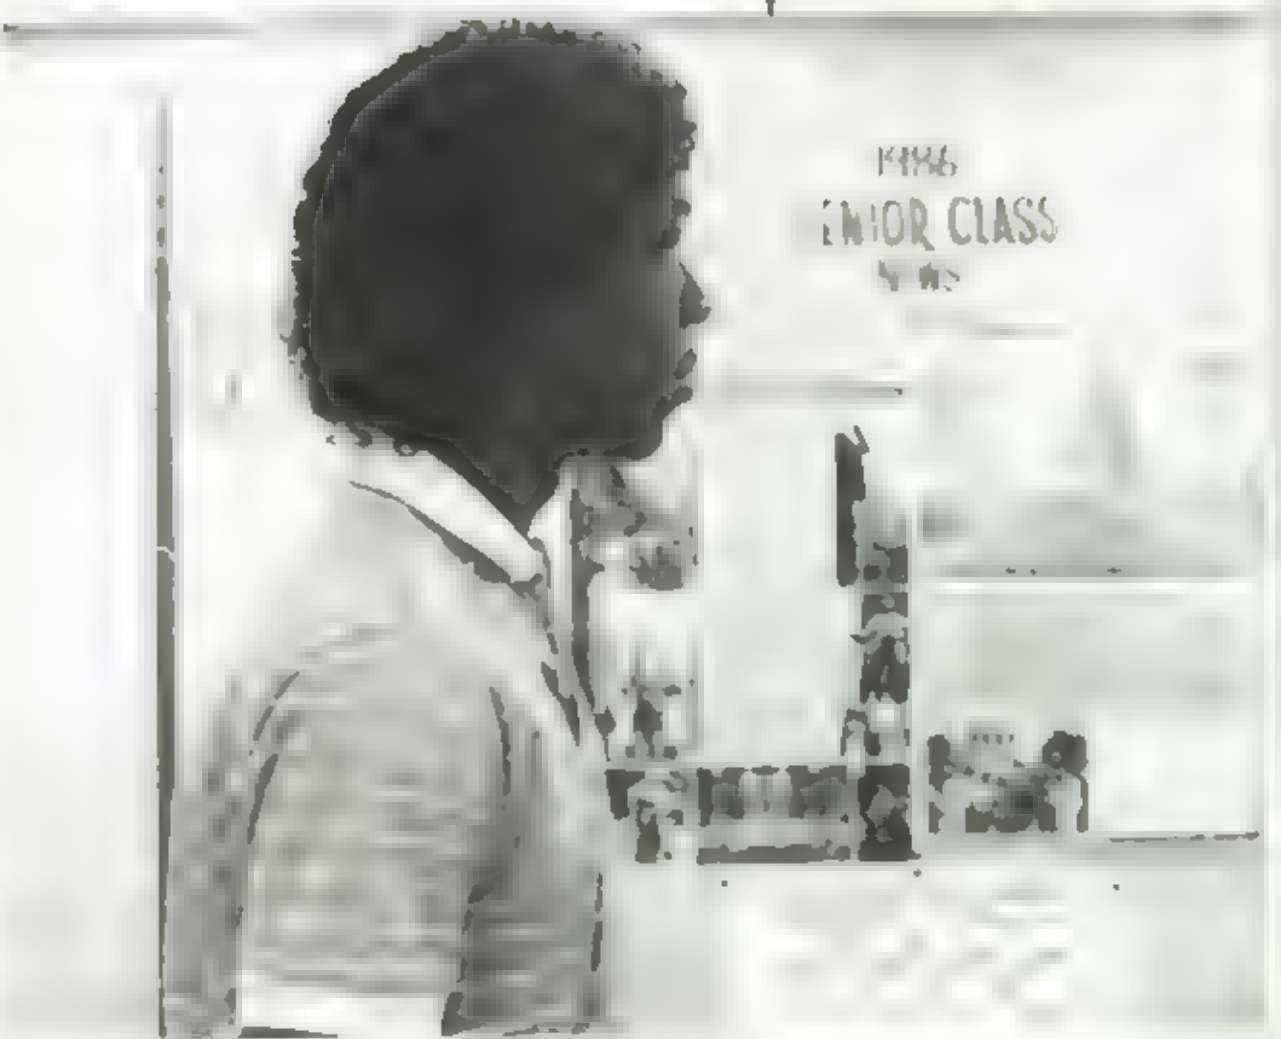

The Reaction?

Isabel Montes: "I am very proud to represent my senior class, and I will represent

Cindy Brown: "I feel extremely privileged that my friends and fellow students trust me enough to represent them as Secretary of the senior class."

Keith Timmons: "I hope to represent the common student"

Donna Rose: "I felt proud and excited to have been chosen to represent my class. I felt somewhere in my four years of high school, I must have done something right."

Senioritis

It happens every year. For some it starts the first day of school, for others it takes a little longer for the symptoms to manifest, but eventually it infects the studious behavior of almost all seniors. "It" is the dreaded affliction — "Senioritis"

For those of you who are fortunate enough not to be familiar with this exclusive disease, here are the symptoms:

- 1) A strong desire to sleep late in the morning
- 2) Coming up with sick, weak excuses for staying home
- 3) Not doing homework or class assignments regularly
- 4) Putting schoolwork off until the last minute
- 5) Cutting a day here and there
- 6) Constant complaining about how much you "hate school."
- 7) Counting the days until graduation
- 8) Thinking-up ways to "get rid" of your least favorite teachers
- 9) Taking the "500" cut day in March.
- 10) Forgetting your locker combination

If you do begin to feel one or any combination of these symptoms, remember you're not alone. See a guidance counselor immediately. It's never too late to get help.

Mementos

Members of the senior class were asked what object they would like to leave the school to be remembered by. The answers varied from nothing to a pair of tennis shoes. Here are some of the responses given to this mystifying question:

Andrew Hunt: "My boots and my Bible."

Shelly Lee: "My prom dress because it was from a special event."

Jeff McMillan: "My pen because of all the writing I've done since I started school."

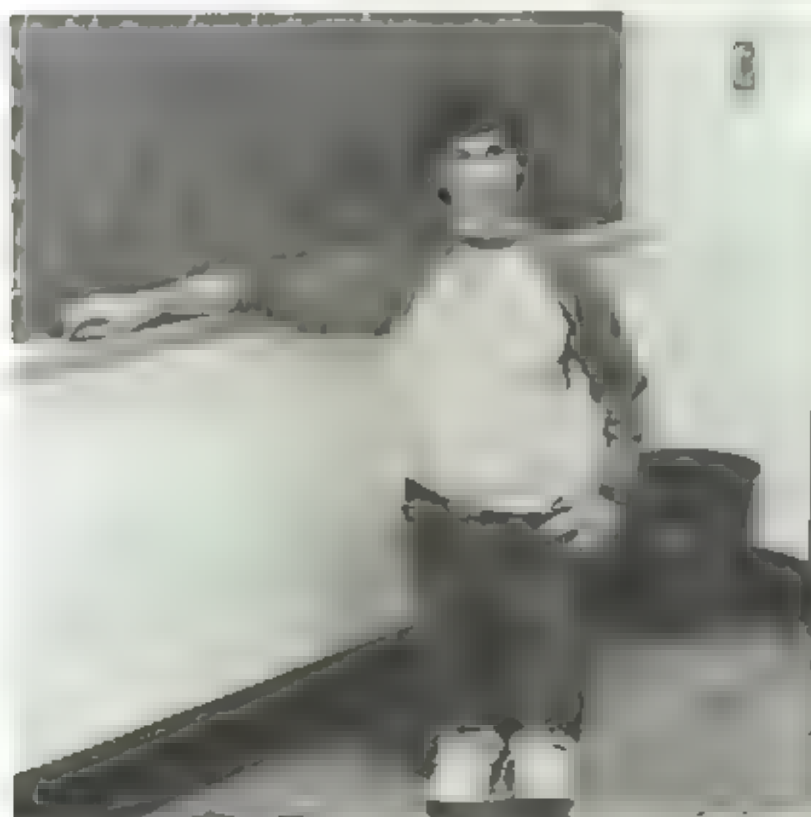

Robert Kennedy: "My tennis shoes for one of the display cases."

Carla Davidson: "Spirit in the school — not only for sports but for all the clubs, activities, and even for those academic courses."

Ingrid McCray: "My locker bronzed in gold."

Wesley Mullins: "A large picture of our senior class hung in the hallway."

Tony Lahne: "All of the unopened textbooks with my name on them."

Graduation

What does graduation mean? For some, graduating from high school is a very happy event — a time to progress to the next stages of life. For others, it's a time of sadness because it will be the last time many friends will see each other.

Lorie Doty: "It will mean leaving the secure teenage world for the confusing adult world."

Terry Wilson: "A great feeling of achievement and happiness."

Carla Davidson: "Our last memories together . . . We cry the tears of joys and fears."

Brian Simpson: "No more school, and I can work full time."

Christopher Clark: "A better life"

Shelley Lee: "My day is getting closer for leaving for the Air Force."

Tony Lahne: "Going off to college starting work on Mondays . . . a feeling of relief."

Juniors

The junior year of high school. Many students claim it's the most difficult year. With so many required courses, there is a lot of homework and studying to do.

The junior year is definitely the time to start realizing the future you thought was so far away is just ahead of you. It's time to put away all of the childish ways of the two previous years and begin thinking about the P.S.A.T., the S.A.T., and possible college or career choices.

One good thing about being a junior is that the senior year is just around the corner. All there is to do is to keep striving for excellence and keep on the right track. Senior Depot is the next stop.

It is hard because I have to keep my grades up so that next year as a senior I might be able to get a scholarship. But it is also fun. I know that next year we will be head of the school. This year we just sit back and learn.

—Emma Derebeej

It's great knowing you only have one more year after this one.

—Michelle Haselwood

I feel I have to show a little more leadership and start settling down to show a better example for underclassmen.

—Dawn Adams

It's been great. This has been the best year of my life and it's not over yet. I was starting quarterback, homecoming prince, and I have made a lot of new friends.

“Work Hard . . . know what you want in life”

This advice given by junior Kelly DeVore seems to have been quite effective for Kelly.

For last September, Kelly was honored by being voted the top ROTC cadet in the state of Indiana. Kelly became the first female at Washington to ever win this award.

The banquet was held at the Convention Center. It was given by the Association of the U.S. Army. Kelly was awarded a certificate, a ribbon, a medal, and a trophy.

Kelly says she is tremendously influenced by her parents. They support her in everything she does.

Kelly is presently ranked seventh in the class of 1987. She is a member of the Drill Team, the Color Guard, the swim team, the Freedoms Foundation.

Kelly hopes to attend West Point or the Air Force Academy. She then plans to join the Air Force and pursue a military career.

Kelly's advice has served her well so far; doubtless it will continue to do so in the future.

Sophomores

"Sophomores have been in high school for a year so they know the routines of the school and where their classes are," stated sophomore Kathy Schultheis

This remark seems to sum up the feelings of many sophomores at Washington. Sophomore year is not much different from freshman year except for that experience. Many like their classes more especially since gym is no longer required

All those frustrations and teasings of freshman year are left behind, and the sophomores are able to relax and enjoy school a bit more

No longer novices, sophomores still have a year to go before accepting some of the responsibility of leadership of the junior year. Sophomore year is that in-between year

Freshmen

Freshmen year. Doesn't every one remember what it was like? All the names and harrassment! The scariest year of your young life. You're scared because you feel odd, little, and out of place. Thankfully, the freshman condition lasts only a year, and then you're a big, bad totally awesome sophomore. However knowing the literal meaning of the word sophomore, "wise fool," doesn't offer much comfort

Still the freshman year isn't all bad. Many agree that high school is not as tough a place as portrayed by last year's freshmen. Perhaps these scare stories are part of the sophomore's revenge.

Now what do this year's freshmen have planned for next year's newest students?

It's no fun being a freshman because the upperclass punk on freshmen because they're new.
—Andrea Meredith

It's great being a freshman . . . I like being in a new school
—Ericka Galun

People made the school sound harsh and big, but it isn't
—Kim Shepherd

It's fun!
—Angie McCarty

It's life. You got to go through it sometime

Achievement is goal

for Steve Scott

Freshman Steve Scott has made quite a place for himself his first year at Washington. He was voted Homecoming freshman prince by his classmates. He also played on the freshman football and basketball teams.

Steve came to Washington from School 61. Steve has enjoyed his freshman year, even though he says high school is not exactly what he expected. Besides being on the freshman teams, Steve also spent time in the wrestling room wrestling and lifting weights.

In reply to his honor of being freshman prince, Steve said, "It was fun, but I did not think I would win . . . I don't know about being popular, but I do know that I have a lot of good friends."

As for the future, Steve plans to go to college but is undecided about what he wants to major in. He is interested in pursuing athletics.

With his freshman year almost over, Steve is ready for next year and even more achievements.

Freshman year

is successful for Kim

Kim Shepherd is one of Washington's outstanding freshmen. Kim came from school 47 and has been busy making her mark here.

She was captain of this year's girls' swim team. Kim has been swimming for about three years, but this was her first for competitive swimming. Kim's overall standing for the season was eight 1st places, twelve 2nds, seven 3rds, and two 5th place finishes.

Kim also qualified in two events and as an alternate in the sectionals. She went on to be manager of the boys' swim team. Kim hopes one day to swim for Vincennes.

Kim was further honored this year by being voted Homecoming freshman princess.

Honors are nothing new to Kim as she won many academic awards in grade school and junior high. She received high school credit during her 8th grade year in U.S. History. So far, Kim's grade point average is 8.0.

School is not the only area for Kim's dedication. This past summer Kim was a candy stripper at Methodist Hospital.

Kim's future plans are to attend college and become a journalist.

Continental Express

arrives at its destination

Developing, designing, and putting together the 1986 Post was without a doubt an unforgettable experience. New challenges faced the staff as we dealt with a new publishing company, and we decided to set new design goals for ourselves.

The 1986 Post was published by an old friend, Delmar Publishing Company located in Charlotte, North Carolina. Delmar had previously published our yearbook until five years ago. The entire staff thanks Mr. Jim Sweeney, our Delmar representative, for all his valued advice and assistance in areas that we knew next to nothing about. Mr. Sweeney, your help was a key element in the development of the Post this year.

A special "thanks" as usual is extended to Mr. Dick Dickus for his expert photography and help. Mr. Dickus always seems to go out of his way to help Washington High School and the Post staff.

Thank you, Mr. Dickus!

The Post staff would also like to extend a very gracious "thank you" to Miss Linda Davis who devotes endless hours of her own time each year to make the Post a success. Miss Davis, you are the major contributor to the publication as far as time goes, and we appreciate and recognize this and thank you for it.

The 1986 Post is finally complete! A lot of hard work from the staff and adviser are the contributing factors that make the annual get better each year. There are many changes and new concepts in the 1986 edition, and on behalf of the staff, I hope all Continentals enjoy the 1986 Post. May it bring to mind all of the special memories of the past year. Thank you, Continentals, for making the 1986 Post possible, and keep on the right track.

Editor, 1986 Post
